TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

Responsibilities of the Stomach.—The stomach is the most wonderful of all manufactories. It converts the nutriments taken into it into materials of flesh and blood. As the body wastes, it re-creates its tissues, fibers and bones, renewing them, we are told, once in seven years. It performs this work by turning the food into the basis of the blood which is the material of all of them. To tone this responsible organ when weak and disordered, to regulate its action and the action of its dependencies, the liver and the bowels, the most admirable of all medicines is TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. It invigorates the digestion, controls the secretions and purifies the blood.

He found out when he got home, and missed a pocket-book with 1,500 francs in it, also a gold repeater and handsome chain and seals.

Mr. R. C. Sneath's Address.

DELIVERED BEFORE A MEETING OF MERCHANTS AND BUSINESS MEN AT THE PORTLAND LIBRARY ROOMS, JUNE 29, 1870.

Gentlemen: I feel conscious of the honor you bestow in electing me to preside over your deliberations. The large assemblage present, of your most substantial citizens, gives assurance that this movement will not be in vain.

You have met here for the purpose of considering the propriety of establishing a Board of Trade for the city of Portland. The various objects naturally pertaining to a Board of Trade are so numerous as to prevent their entire recapitulation. The machinery of a Board consists in a President, Vice President, Committees of Finance, Library, Membership, Arbitration and Appeals. The duties of the three first named committees are readily understood. Those of arbitration and appeal, are in the nature of a mercantile court of lower and higher degree, and conducted in the manner of judicial courts to some extent, but without their vexatious delay and expensive proceedings.

A Secretary, Treasurer and Librarian, will conclude the list of officers necessary for business, one person generally filling the last named positions.

A seal to stamp the various measures passed upon, will be necessary to carry the sign manual. Membership consists principally of merchants. It is properly a mercantile institution, and should be controlled and directed in the main by merchants. Others are admitted through courtesy and by unanimous consent. It is not adapted to the professions, and they are seldom admitted. After organization, members are only admitted by secret ballot, and a year's probation is frequently granted, by the appearance of three black balls.

A library is deemed quite essential for the collection of commercial and financial works of reference, and maps and charts in relation to navigation and the geography of the country.

Cushing's Manual is perhaps the plainest authority in regard to parliamentary questions, which with a few special rules of order, will constitute all that is necessary for perfect order and decorum.

An organization is thus formed and can be in readiness on a few hours notice to dispense the hospitalities of a city; to pay the last sad obsequies to the respected dead; to be watchful of the sanitary condition of the people; to study the political and domestic economy of the State; to protect and encourage coast and inland navigation; to create lighthouses and buoys in dangerous places; to remove obstructions to navigation; to open new channels of communication and revive the old; to create new enterprises whenever practicable; to regulate harbor, pilot and other charges; to be in communication with the central and State governments in relation to Customs and Revenue duties, Postoffices and mails, pilots and pilot laws; to establish rates of commissions and charges on consigned goods, both foreign and domestic; on sales, purchases, shipments, endorsed exchange, collections and disbursements, guarantees, brokerages, insurance, general average statements and storage; on litigated accounts, purchase and sale of bullion, specie and exchange; on the landing, storing and re-shipment of merchandise from vessels in distress, and to establish rates of tare, and other customs, that are essentially necessary to the harmony and welfare of a business community.

Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce have been established from time immemorial in most of the cities and towns of the civilized world. They are the centres from which radiate the concentrated wisdom of the mercantile fraternity, and already there is token of an established National Chamber of Commerce in these United States, made up by representatives from all the Chambers and Boards of Trade, in the several States, to foster and protect the interests of commerce in a national manner, throughout our land.

The influence exerted by a conservative body of citizens engaged in the laudable and legitimate commerce of the country, is increasing with every generation, and the day has now come when that influence reaches from the outskirts to the very centre of our National Government. Peculation and special legislation, fraud and chicanery, droop and wither before the open and manly hostility of a well organized mercantile community.

Society is manifestly improved by unity and a more respectful consideration of each other's rights and duties. Individuals become better men, and more wise in their calling, by coming in more frequent contact with each other, on the arena of life. Harmony, honesty and truth, follow as the result of a more social and united compact—and if "Commerce is the handmaid of Christianity," how important are the trusts now in your hands.

You will not be able to conjecture at first, the exact line of your duties and privileges in connection with the organization you purpose establishing. It will be for time and opportunity to indicate, when and how your influence can be exerted best to obtain such measures and objects, as your own and the public good may require. Your success will depend mainly in an honest conviction of the propriety of your action. You will try, in a crucible of your own design, the mercenary measures that will come before you—you will discover and separate the gold from the dross when you are freed entirely from political, personal and sectarian motives, and you will obtain from this community and from the world, that respect and confidence due to an honest, manly and public spirited course.

Your country is undeveloped; the channels of trade are unopened; the wings of commerce are too infrequently at your doors; the tedious and expensive transportation of your products impoverishes your people, and makes sluggish the channels of trade that nature has provided for you.

On you depends an amelioration of the present condition of things. You have a country of which you should be justly proud. You have a city unsurpassed in healthy growth and prosperity. You have the metropolis of this State, and of the adjoining Territories, located on a magnificent stream, belonging to a grand system of water courses, ordained by nature to emancipate the wilderness, and fructify your whole land.

You are unknown, in a degree, by reason of your inactivity; your resources are unbounded, your territory unlimited; your climate salubrious, and to the people of the world you should say, "Come to our shores and be welcome."

This you are now doing in a measure, through that noble institution, your Labor Exchange. It will compound for you a greater return, in the increased wealth, population and general prosperity of your State, than any other investment you can have made. Give it your undivided support, and you will never regret it.

The city of Portland, in size, wealth, location and general importance, ranks far beyond many places in the Eastern States that have their Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade. It should in no wise be deemed an experiment to establish a Board of Trade here. Your present importance and possible future, demands immediate action, and you will be false to your position and negligent of the trust reposed in your hands as citizens of a young, vigorous and highly favored city, should you fail to do your whole duty in the matter.

I thank you, gentlemen, for the pleasant privilege of meeting with you here this evening, and for the opportunity of discussing a subject so intimately connected with your future welfare, and that of your city; and were I to remain among and become one of you, I should certainly use my most strenuous efforts in establishing a Board of Trade, on a broad and lasting foundation.

Prince Demidoff received from his Russian iron and copper mines, in which he employed 25,000 laborers, an annual income of 1,400,000 francs. It is in these mines, imbedded in veins of copper, that have been found some of the largest and finest blocks of malachite in the world.

SWEET REVENGE.

Austrian Women-Whippers Receiving the Reward of Their Brutality.

It is well known that during the revolutionary wars in Northern Italy, in 1848 and 1849, the Austrian commanders caused a number of aristocratic ladies who had participated in some patriotic demonstration, to be brutally whipped by Croatic soldiers in front of the jails, and in the presence of large crowds of spectators. Thus in Brescia the Countess of Ferrari, a young married lady of twenty-five, who had collected money for the revolutionary volunteers, was placed before a Military Commission of Austrian officers, and, by direction of Lieutenant Field-Marshal Neipperg, sentenced to receive fifty strokes with the verges. On the same afternoon she was led on the Place d'Armes, and after having been stripped almost naked, tied to a bench, she received her punishment at the hands of two stalwart Croats, who were armed with formidable bunches of birch rods. Every stroke with them must have been intensely painful, but the Countess did not utter a sound of complaint. At the twenty-fifth stroke, however, she fainted, and when her executioners had inflicted the full number of strokes on her senseless body, she was carried back in an almost lifeless condition to her cell, and thrown on a bundle of straw. She never fully recovered from this terrible castigation, and died a few months afterward. This is only one case of many. The fathers, husbands, brothers and sons of these martyred Italian ladies formed in the year 1850 a secret league for the purpose of meting out punishment to the brutal Austrian commanders who had ordered their mothers, wives and sisters to be chastised in this cruel manner. They resolved to bide their time, and to pick off the Austrians whenever an opportunity to do so presented itself. Two years ago great excitement was created in Austria by the assassination of an Austrian General, in Illyria, by a young Italian nobleman, who thus avenged his mother, that had been terribly flogged, by order of the General. The avenger succeeded in making his escape, and the Austrian Government did not take pains to obtain his extradition from the Italian authorities. The other day a similar tragedy took place in the neighborhood of Laybach, where Neipperg, the principal actor in the cruel scene which we narrated above, owned a country seat. On the 27th of April, a well dressed young stranger presented himself at the chateau and told the servant who opened the door to him that he desired to see Count Neipperg. "The Count is in the garden. Shall I call him?" asked the servant. "No," replied the young stranger; "take me to the garden, and I will see His Excellency there." The servant conducted him to the garden, in rather a remote part of which they met Neipperg, who was promenading with his daughter, a young lady of 22. The stranger, addressing Neipperg, said to him: "I am Count Ferrari! What did you do to my mother?" Neipperg looked in surprise at him. The next moment Count Ferrari plunged a knife into his breast, and despite the frantic attempts of the young Countess Neipperg, succeeded in making his escape.

Scriptural Revision in England.

The important task of revising the Scriptures has been commenced by the Committee appointed last month by the Convocation of Canterbury in accordance with the report accepted by the Convention at its last session. At its first meeting on the 25th ult., the Committee adopted the following resolutions and rules as the fundamental principles on which the revision is to be conducted:

1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the text of the authorized version consistently with faithfulness.
2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the authorized and earlier English versions.
3. Each company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.
4. That the text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating, and that when the text so adopted differs from that from which the authorized version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.
5. To make or retain no change in the text on the second final revision by each company, except two-thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.
6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next meeting, whensoever the same shall be required by one-third of those present at the meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next meeting.
7. To revise the headings of chapters, pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.
8. To refer, on the part of each company, when considered desirable, to divines, scholars and literary men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.
9. That the work of each company be communicated to the other as it is completed, in order that there may be as little deviation from uniformity in language as possible.

THE PURITAN PLOT TO CAPTURE WILLIAM PENN—A LITERARY FORGERY.—W. F. Poole, of Boston, exposes, in a late number of the Boston Transcript, a fraudulent letter, assumed to be from Cotton Mather, and giving an account of "A Puritan Plot to Capture William Penn." The article first appeared in the Easton (Pa.) Argus, and has been widely copied. Mr. Poole says:

Western readers can hardly be expected to know that Mr. Judkins and the late Mr. Greenleaf have never been heard of in these parts, that no such incident occurred at the Massachusetts Historical Society; that the Massachusetts Colony did not maintain a navy, that Cotton Mather was only 19 years old in September, 1682, never persecuted the Quakers, and never wrote or spelt like a blockhead; and that the entire paper is the most wretched and stupid hoax that ever escaped being strangled at its birth. Its author is more likely to attain the honors of a Pennsylvania or Delaware whipping-post than the questionable notoriety of a Chatterton or an Ireland. Such stuff supplies a certain class of Western newspapers with material for fostering a prejudice against New England, and it is a surprise to us that it should have passed unchallenged into so bright a paper as the Chicago Tribune, in whose editorial corps there are New England men.

"Cotton Mather was a man of marked peculiarities, and his hatred of religious intolerance and persecution was one of them. He used to say that he kept himself so busy about his own duties that he had no time to interfere with other people in the performance of theirs. He saw, he said, so little of christianity, of any sort, in the world, that he had no heart to persecute the poor and feeble illustrators of it that came in his way. 'A good neighbor and a good subject,' he writes, 'has a claim to all his temporal enjoyments before he is a Christian. It is very odd that a man should lose his claim, from his embracing Christianity, and because he does not happen to be a Christian of the uppermost party among the subdivisions. To punish men in their temporal enjoyments, or with an exclusion from their temporal enjoyments, because of some religious opinions is a robbery.'"

Ballot or Viva Voce

Every Democratic paper in the State has we believe pronounced recently in favor of abolishing the ballot for the [illegible] of voting, while some of them have called for the enactment of a registry law. They cannot please Republicans [illegible] both these [illegible]. It is [illegible] to observe the change which has taken place in the Democratic mind on this subject, and to note the cause. They used to contend for the viva voce system [illegible] party gave us the viva voce system. Its object was to intimidate and coerce voters. It served its purpose well, for it was impossible under the viva voce system for the voter to prevent any one who wants to know how he votes from obtaining information thereof. For the last twenty years it has made ostracism [illegible] Democratic times for a person to vote anything but the straight ticket, [illegible] all the feeble and shaky brethren were forced up to the polls and compelled to swallow whatever the conventions and caucuses of the party would put up for them. If anybody complained of a system which thus interfered with the voter's right to exercise his suffrage as he pleased, without allowing the party leaders and politicians to know what he did, he was told that nobody but a sneak would desire to conceal his vote, and that no man of real honesty, true courage and sound Democracy ought to be afraid to let the whole world know how his vote was cast. Such was the argument in old Democratic times, and such was the motive which led that party to establish this viva voce system in the Constitution, with the provision, however, that the Legislature might change it. And now they want it changed. With that exalted idea of the morality of their party which has led their papers to declare that even the best class of Democrats were bought up in the late election like so many "glass eyed Cayuse horses," they say that Democrats would not sell out so readily if the ballot system were adopted, or at all events, that if they should agree to sell their votes they could deceive the purchaser and secretly vote Democratic after all. Now if Democrats really are so corruptible as their newspapers assert, and the adoption of the ballot system would do anything to remove the temptation from them, it cannot be adopted too soon. But as we have often said, we have a better opinion of the Democratic party than the organs of that party have recently expressed. Our objection to the viva voce system rests on different grounds. First, the voter ought to have the privilege of voting without being obliged to allow everybody to know how he votes. Second, it is an intolerable nuisance for voters to be compelled to wait for hours at the polls and then run the risk of being shut out at last. The Legislature ought to give us the ballot system. And if it will give us a registry law, the machinery of our elections will then be so arranged as to run smoothly and insure a fair expression of the voice of the people. The Republican party will always gain by enactments to secure honest elections. Some may suppose that the viva voce system might prevent some Democrats from voting for repudiation, because they would not want it known. This is absurd, for any person who would vote for such a dishonorable proposition, even by ballot, would never lack the hardihood to vote for it openly.

We hear that Col. Kelly claims twenty-seven votes in the Legislature, and wants eight more. We think it very doubtful whether he is sure of twenty-seven. But if he gets that number at the start he may be farther from being elected than if he had no more than half a dozen. It is well known that Colonel Kelly took part in the movement that was made here and in other counties before the election to swindle Southern Oregon out of a railroad. He favored the Ladd [illegible] Eugene City route, and in order to gain a supposed political advantage was willing to sacrifice the interests of Southern Oregon. If the members from that section don't look after the rights and interests of their constituents in this matter by supporting some man pledged to stand by them, they deserve never to have a railroad through their part of the State. It is hardly probable that they will support any man who has worked against them.

According to the Herald no part of the Ohio Democracy is in favor of paying the national debt. They all want to repudiate. A portion of the party opposed the adoption of repudiation resolutions simply "from motives of policy," and the other portion "from motives of principle would not consent to a resolution pledging the Democratic party to pay the debt." Of course, then, there are no advocates of national faith and honor among the Democrats of Ohio. The October election will reveal something of interest to the repudiators of that State.

It has been decided to alter the plans for the mint building at the Dalles and convert it into an assay office. The Supervising Architect at Washington has notified Superintendent Hogu not to proceed with the outer wall of the building further than the second story windows until the revised plans for completing the building can be forwarded. These will be sent on in a few days. As the walls are now up to the second story window sills, work will be temporarily suspended.

People are waiting with as much patience as they can command to see what the capitalists of Portland are going to do for the west side road. A month has elapsed since the great uproar about it prior to the election, and nothing has been done yet. Meanwhile the summer is wearing away. Is it the design to let the matter rest just where it is for the next two years, and then suddenly grow very anxious about it the week before the next general election?

The Albany Democrat says "the only kind of repudiation that Oregon is committed to is repudiation of the Republican party." Brick Pomeroy's Democrat says the people of Oregon (meaning the Democrats) "marched to the polls and declared by unmistakable majorities for the repudiation of the infamous debt." Brick's Democrat is better Democratic authority in Oregon than the Albany Democrat.

We find that we were in error in stating that there would be no general celebration of the Fourth of July at Salem. Since making that statement we have seen in the Salem paper a full programme of exercises for the general observance of the day. So it seems that the mock celebrationists are not to have the occasion all to themselves.

Gen. Lane says he is "not a candidate for office and never was, but when the people saw fit to nominate him he always accepted." These be ominous words for the ears of Col. Kelly and other aspirants for the U. S. Senate. Gen. Lane is on the track.

Narrow Guage Railways.

[illegible] with [illegible] all the advantages of railway transportation required in [illegible] which necessitate railways [illegible] profitably built and operated [illegible] to attract much attention. They have been tried extensively in [illegible] has proved [illegible] respect [illegible]. On such roads a speed of [illegible] miles an hour [illegible] comparatively small [illegible] gives them a [illegible] A narrow guage railway on the plan spoken of has been built in [illegible] with some extensive iron works in Pennsylvania, and of this road we get the following account from an engineering journal:

The line was built to take away the cinders from the blast furnaces. The road is 2 feet 6 inches in guage, and is the same as when we used horse power. The engines were built by M. Baird & Co., at the Baldwin Locomotive Works, in Philadelphia. The steam cylinders are 9 inches in diameter and 12 inches stroke; driving wheels 30 inches diameter, with steel tires 2 inches thick. In order to economize in room we ascend very rapidly; the tip, or dump, and a portion of the road has a gradient of 4 feet in 100 feet, or 211 feet per mile. Our cinder cars are four wheeled, weighing, when loaded, [illegible] tons [illegible] cwt gross; wheels only 16 inches diameter. The engines weigh, when ready for work, with tank full of water, 8 tons 4 cwt. gross. One of them will haul with ease up this gradient of 211 feet per mile, 8 of the cinder cars, making an aggregate of [illegible] tons, and that with a boiler pressure of only 110 to 125 pounds per square inch.

Such roads may be built at a cost of from $3,000 to $7,000 a mile. They would be just the thing for many portions of our own State. It is thought by many persons that they will revolutionize the system of railroad building in those districts where the demands of trade are not such as to require [illegible].

The Australian Subsidy

The bill to authorize and aid the establishment of an ocean steamship service between the United States and Australia was reported in the Senate by Mr. Corbett from the Committee of Commerce on the 15th June, with the following amendments:

1st. Proposals for the service are to be published by the Postmaster General in various newspapers in Washington, San Francisco and other cities for the period of thirty days.

2d. The points at which the steamship shall touch are Honolulu and such other ports in the Pacific ocean as may become necessary for coaling purposes.

3. The number of round voyages per annum between San Francisco and Australian ports shall be twelve.

4th. The President of the United States is directed to invite the Governments of the Sandwich, Feejee and Society Islands, New Caledonia, New Zealand and the colonies of Australia, to unite with the Postoffice Department in establishing mail communication between the United States and their Governments, by means of the aforesaid monthly line of steamers.

5th. No proposal shall be considered which shall amount to more than $500,000 for twelve voyages per annum, nor unless the same is from a citizen of the United States of undoubted character, nor unless the proposal accepted by the Postmaster General shall be acceptable to a sufficient number of the aforementioned Governments, and that distinct and separate contracts containing similar provisions, be made between such Governments by the accepted bidders for additional subsidies to said steamships.

6th. Said steamships shall be constructed of the best material of either wood or iron, and upon improved models, with all the modern improvements adapted to seagoing steamships of the first class.

7th. The Postmaster General shall have power to terminate the contract at any time, in case of its being underlet or assigned, by giving two years' notice.

THE RISE IN WHEAT.—The bulk of the wheat that comes into the Chicago market is class number two as to quality. Last winter this quality brought at Chicago 72 cents per bushel. On the first of June it was up to 97 cents, and since then it has touched $1 17½, the highest figures being on the 16th ult. Since then more favorable weather and better crop prospects have reduced the market to about $1 10. The Chicago Tribune, a well posted journal, has the following remarks on the cause of the late rise in the wheat market:

The cause of this sudden rise lies in the discovery that Europe is threatened with a short yield on the wheat harvest of 1870, and that France, in particular, is already in the markets of Liverpool and New York buying up supplies to meet the expected scarcity. It is stated that flour and wheat were purchased in New York on last Wednesday on French account. It is also indicated that the receipts are falling off. There is, undoubtedly, plenty of grain remaining in the hands of first holders, but some of them seem disposed to hold longer, in the hope of obtaining still larger prices. The wisdom of this course is, at least, doubtful. The yield in the United States will be a fair one, and large stocks are yet on hand, nearly 2,000,000 bushels being in store in Chicago alone, while the speculative spirit is so strong that it has put up the price here to about ten cents per bushel above the price that can be obtained for it in New York, after paying the cost of transportation. The European demand may continue for some time yet, but can scarcely be so imperative when their own harvests are being gathered. It is possible to wait for a market till the opportunity for selling at present prices has passed by.

The Northern Pacific Railroad

LETTER FROM JAY COOKE

The following letter from Jay Cooke to Senator Corbett is placed at our disposal for publication:

GIBRALTAR [illegible] Ohio,
June 13, 1870.

Hon. H. W. Corbett, U. S. Senate: DEAR SIR—I thank you cordially for the copy of Mr. Evans' notes on Puget Sound. I find the document of deep interest, and will make use of extracts from it in publications we now have in preparation. Any documents or any information you can give me will be at all times very acceptable. The legislation required by our North Pacific road having been conceded to us, we are now ready to go to work in earnest. The contract to Red River has been let, and by the 1st of July 1871 that portion of the road will be running. In the meantime, if we succeed in our foreign negotiations, and in making a home market for bonds, we expect to commence the Western ends of the road, and to have the whole line completed within four years. Yours truly,

JAY COOKE.

OREGON

Politics are still the exciting topic in Jackson county. The local papers are fighting the campaign over again.

Sam Bowden has cleaned up, after crushing about 50 tons of quartz on Jackson Creek, near Jacksonville, about $[illegible].

The citizens of Ashland have subscribed five hundred dollars towards building a road to Pelican Bay, Klamath Lake, by way of Dead Indian valley.

The Fourth is to be celebrated at Jacksonville on a grand scale. Lafayette Lane will deliver the oration and the [illegible] will parade in full force.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Trustees of Columbia District Agricultural Society will be held at Moody's Hall, at the Dalles, on July 2d, at 1 o'clock P. M.

The Roseburg paper has this: "Salmon are already being caught at the junction of the North and South Umpqua rivers, and several of our citizens are making preparations to engage in the business more extensively this season than has ever been done heretofore."

The Mountaineer says: "A shooting affair occurred last week between C. W. Myers and T. J. McCongle near Alkali Flat in this county, which resulted in the slightly wounding of McCongle in the shoulder. Myers came to town and gave himself up. He waived an examination and was bound over by Judge Williams in the sum of $500 to appear at the next term of the Circuit Court."

PERSONAL.—Gov. Woods has been stopping a couple of days in the city. He goes to Salem to-day.

THE WEST

The [illegible] State Central Committee of Nevada have agreed [illegible] [illegible] until [illegible] September.

One of the features in the programme for the celebration of the Fourth of July in [illegible] a fat man's race. No man weighing less than [illegible] pounds will be permitted to [illegible] heavy weights have already entered for the prize, a bottle of ale.

An [illegible] of June 23 says the new passenger [illegible] [illegible] completed [illegible] the [illegible] passage of through travelers [illegible] under the [illegible].

A large meeting of citizens interested in the success of the expedition now fitting out for the Snake river and Big Horn country was held in [illegible] on June [illegible] Colonel Murray, Dr. [illegible] Judge [illegible] [illegible] with about 75 of whom volunteered to go during the present season.

The San Francisco Examiner objects to the anti-Coolie bill proposed in Congress because if passed into a law it would serve the radicals as a statutory stump speech in this State. We thought this was the [illegible]. The Democracy would rather have the Coolies here than that their coming should be at [illegible] the Republicans.

The San Francisco Bulletin of the 2[illegible] has the following account of the misfortunes of a census taker: "One of the Census Agents in canvassing his district yesterday, found himself very unexpectedly brought up with a round turn. He called at a house on Third street, near Market, and was met by a woman, whom he began to question in the usual manner and form. The lady pronounced his questions impertinent and impudent. All his attempts at explanation but increased her indignation and in her excitement she made a gallant assault upon him and carried his works by storm. The collector of statistics made a sudden retreat through the front door, leaving his books and accounts in the possession of the enemy. He sued out a warrant and sent a police officer after his assailant. The details of the case will probably crop out in the Police Court."

Political Future of Oregon

From the Eugene Guard

It must be apparent to all who look at Oregon politics that the State will give a Republican majority at the next election. Candid Democrats will not deny that the present election has demonstrated that result. Two years ago at the last State election the majority for Smith over Logan was 1,200. It is true that at the Presidential election in the succeeding fall the majority for Seymour and Blair was only 164, but that was no indication of the relative strength of parties as the Democrats considered the election of Grant and Colfax a foregone conclusion and were so dissatisfied with Seymour and Blair that hundreds of them refused to vote. But in the late State election both parties were organized and the Democrats brought to bear their whole strength, as they did in the June election of 1868. The result shows that while the Republican vote has increased nearly 1,000 the Democratic vote remains about the same, so that the Democratic majority has been reduced 800 or 900, leaving them a bare majority.

If we make the June elections of 1868 and 1870 a basis of calculation, then to gain half as much during the next two years as we did during the past two years will give us the State by several hundred majority in 1872. But if we admit that the Presidential election of 1868 was a test of strength, as some of the Democrats are now claiming, then the case is still more hopeless for Democracy. If their majority in June, 1868, was 1,200, as in the following November they were only able to carry the State against Grant by 164 votes, showing that Grant gained over 1,000 in four months, a similar decrease of the present majority of 300 or 400 would give the State to Grant in 1872 should he be the Republican nominee, and we have no doubt he will, by a majority of several thousand votes.

We consider it morally certain that in June 1872 Oregon will elect a Republican Congressman, a Republican Legislature, which will secure a United States Senator, and cast her vote for U. S. Grant for President of the United States. To prove that such will be the case it is only necessary to refer to the last two State elections and to call attention to the character of the immigration that is now pouring into the State. A colony of Germans from Chicago, numbering in all about 200, have purchased land in this county and will settle here this summer. They are all Republicans, and with this re-enforcement and proper management this county will be redeemed at the next election. A similar colony will settle in Linn county, and the Democratic majority there will be materially reduced. Two hundred immigrants from Maine are reported on the way to Jackson county. They are coming to nearly every part of the State, and two-thirds of all this increase in our population are Republican.—East Democracy.

FRENCH SUICIDAL STATISTICS.—During 1869 there were suicides in France by 4,[illegible] men and 1,003 women. Of this number [illegible] men and 400 women drowned themselves; 1,072 men and 334 women hung themselves; 237 men and 3 women shot themselves through the brain with pistols; 251 men and 2 women employed shot guns to rid themselves of life; 193 men and 113 women started into eternity on a cloud of charcoal; 176 men and 31 women let out their souls by opening a passage through their bodies with some sharp instrument; 77 men and 14 women resorted to poison to rid themselves of life's ills; and 93 men and 33 women took a leap into the unknown by jumping from high windows. These facts are of value to people in this country. Paris sets the fashions in suicides as in everything else, and hereafter hanging, drowning and water for women will be à la mode on this side of the ocean.

[illegible] increased fully twenty per cent [illegible] favorably [illegible] The wealth of [illegible] the same ratio [illegible] under way [illegible] which [illegible] California and the Atlantic close connection [illegible] through the States [illegible] Senator and Congressman [illegible] export of [illegible] trade, and the Government has [illegible] further improving [illegible] the Willamette [illegible] prosperity and I [illegible] in the way [illegible] future for this city [illegible] confident [illegible] Let us as representatives of [illegible] do all in our power [illegible] bringing about this glorious future [illegible] hereafter that we have contributed our mite toward it. In a former message I called your attention to several necessary matters [illegible] upon which, however, no action has been [illegible] yet, namely to commence a system of sewerage, create fire [illegible] the building [illegible] extinguishing [illegible] all of which I again urge upon your notice, and in addition call your attention to the following:

I. Our police force [illegible] to be thoroughly efficient. The Marshal and his assistants do all they are able [illegible] a force of three men is not enough for a city of ten thousand inhabitants, and I recommend an increase of two additional policemen, to be appointed on the recommendation of the Committee on Health and Police, also a thorough revision of our police ordinance.

II. A thorough revision of Health Laws to protect our city from contagious diseases, to establish a Quarantine and [illegible] comprising within it the removal from the [illegible] of the principal streets, houses of ill fame occupied by Chinese, which are a disgrace to the city.

III. To create a Board of Equalization conferring powers on said Board to regulate the assessment and collection of taxes, to change and correct any assessment either by adding thereto or deducting therefrom, if the sum fixed to the assessment roll is proven to be too small or too great.

IV. I would recommend that both the offices of City Assessor and City Surveyor be made salaried offices, which would be much more economical to the city than the present system of paying these officers a per diem.

V. To petition the Legislature of the State to confer power upon the Common Council to tax or license foreign Insurance Companies doing business in this city.

In conclusion, I beg of you, gentlemen, to give, in the future as you have done in the past, your attention to the affairs of the city, and begging a continuance of your good will toward myself,

I am very truly yours,

CITY.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—The City Council held a meeting last evening and the new members Messrs. Congle Hallock and Hill assumed their seats. Present His Honor Mayor Goldsmith and [illegible] members

MESSAGE OF THE MAYOR

[illegible] June [illegible]

Gentlemen [illegible] the duty of the Mayor at [illegible] of our Charter [illegible] the regular annual meeting of the Council [illegible] by message to the Council a general statement of the condition and affairs of the municipal corporation and to recommend the adoption of such measures as he may deem expedient and proper. In conformity with this provision I have the honor to submit to you the following. However, before going any further I hereby extend a cordial welcome to the new members and [illegible] that it will be my pleasure at all times [illegible] to aid you in effecting such legislation as I may be able in [illegible] conducive to the welfare of the community. The reports of the City Auditor and City Treasurer will show the financial condition of our city government the funds on hand being ample to carry us through the year without any indebtedness. The last year has been one of the most important in the history of Portland. The population has increased fully twenty per cent, which compares more than favorably with any other city in the United States. The wealth of the city has increased in the same ratio. Important enterprises are under way which as soon as completed will bring our city in direct connection with California and the Atlantic States. Our city having become now, through the exertions of our Senators and Congressmen a port of entry, we will be enabled to materially extend our foreign trade, and the Government having appropriated money to still further improve the Willamette river below this city there is nothing in the way of advancing our prosperity and I confidently predict a glorious future for this city. We as representatives of our citizens do all in our power to assist in bringing about this glorious future, so that we may claim hereafter that we have contributed our mite toward it. In a former message I called your attention to several necessary measures to be legislated upon on which however, no action has been had as yet namely to adopt a system of sewerage create fire limits, the building of a city hall improving and [illegible] adverse titles to public parks etc [illegible] I again urge upon your notice and [illegible] call your attention to the following

1. The police force is too small to be thoroughly [illegible] The Marshal and his assistants do all they are able to do but a force of three men is not enough for a city of ten thousand inhabitants; I recommend an increase of two additional policemen, to be appointed on the recommendation of the Committee on Health and Police, a thorough revision of our police ordinance.

2. A thorough revision of Health Laws, to protect our city from contagious disease to establish a Quarantine and also compelling with [illegible] the removal from some of the principal streets houses of ill fame occupied by Chinese [illegible] disgrace to the city

STEAMERS.—By an inadvertence we missed making a notice yesterday of the arrival of the steamer Oneonta from the Dalles. On Wednesday morning Capt. Ainsworth President of the O. S. N. Co., Mr [illegible], Chief Engineer Capt [illegible] Miller and others, left the Dalles by the cars for Celilo, where they got up steam on the Shoshone and ran her down through the Tumwater rapids to the Mesa House at the upper end of the Dalles of the Columbia where they left her. When the water falls she is to be brought though the Dalles to be run on the Dalles City and Cascade route. The party came on by rail to Dalles City and started with the Oneonta for Portland, passing the Cascade rapids at 12 o'clock M and reaching Portland at 4 o'clock P M. No accident occurred to either of the steamers though they were both run through very perilous rapids. Capt. Bas Miller piloted the Shoshone through the Tumwater rapids. He [illegible] a couple of months ago—brought her down from Snake river running several dangerous rapids without the least accident to the steamer. Capt Ainsworth himself was at the wheel of the [illegible] when she came down the Cascades. This steamer is much larger and more commodious and elegant than the [illegible] and is really the best passenger boat ever run upon our waters. She is a side wheel steamer of over 500 tons by [illegible] ships [illegible], being just about double the tonnage of the Cascade. Her speed is greater than that of any boat now running [illegible] and yet she runs upon an average [illegible] miles with a cord of wood, being the most economical boat in that respect in the O S N C's fleet. This economic result has been accomplished by some boiler and engine improvements the credit of which is due to Mr. Yates the Company's Chief Engineer. The [illegible] was at once put in service, being loaded and despatched yesterday morning to the Cascades.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL.—The examination of classes in the Central Public School will be continued until noon to-day. The following classes will have recitation at the time noted below

9 A. M. Reading 2d grade

9:30 A. M. Mental Arithmetic 1st grade

10 A. M., Geography 2d grade

10:30 A. M. Practical Arithmetic 1st grade

11 A. M., Rudiments of Written Arithmetic [illegible] grade.

11:30 A. M., Grammar 1st grade

At a quarter past 1 o'clock P M the quarterly reports will be read. At 1:30 the school will spell for a prize. The closing exercises will then follow consisting of Declamations Dialogues, Music, &c. All friends of education are invited to attend, and we trust that the parents of the scholars will feel it their duty to be present during the day

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE 4TH OF JULY.—On the "glorious 4th," Mr. Bates will let out a peg or two and give three performances at the theater—at 11 A. M., at 2 P. M., and in the evening. The [illegible] is not yet ready to be announced.

THE LABOR EXCHANGE.—We present to our readers this morning a statement of the operations of the Labor Exchange for the past three months together with a statement of its finances from the commencement. It will be seen that practically the Association is in straightened circumstances. An impromptu movement was made night before last at the meeting called to organize a Board of Trade for its relief by taking monthly subscriptions. A subscription list amounting to $1[illegible] per month and additional of $[illegible] was raised on the spot and a committee will add [illegible] to-day to raise the monthly list up to a figure that will be sufficient to keep the Exchange going. [illegible] its ordinary running expenses amount to about $[illegible] per month exclusive of printing, including the cost of publishing [illegible] about $[illegible] per month. For the amount of money [illegible] it has been productive of as much good to the city and the State at large as the Labor Exchange, and our business men and property owners cannot appropriate a few dollars per month to a better purpose than to encourage it and keep it in operation. It has already been the direct means of bringing a large number of people into the State a substantial class of people, possessed of means to buy property and contribute to the business and wealth of the country. It is a medium through which many men arriving here without any means of consequence, are enabled to procure ready employment. And, finally, its publications offer the readiest means of answering the great number of inquiries which our citizens are constantly receiving from their friends in the East where Oregon is at last beginning to attract the attention it deserves. The number of European emigrants arriving in New York is now at the rate of nearly 2,000 a day. Such a vast influx of population on the Atlantic coast must find an outlet for settlement. With well directed effort Oregon can secure its share. By all means let the Labor Exchange be sustained.

A BOY LIVES THIRTEEN MONTHS WITH A BULLET IN HIS BRAIN.—On the 19th of March, 1869 a young girl (whether accidentally or otherwise we are not at present informed) shot a boy named [illegible] Downing who lived in Maryland near the Delaware State line. The ball entered his head. Dr Thompson [illegible] dressed the wound and the [illegible] over it and has ever since been able to [illegible] perform work. [illegible] He was subject [illegible] severe attacks of head [illegible] which sometimes confined him to his [illegible] for several [illegible] in succession. Recently [illegible] and Dr Thompson assisted by Messrs [illegible] made a post mortem examination. The [illegible] found the ball without difficulty by a large [illegible] which [illegible] formed [illegible] rather to one side. It was a little to one side of the great longitudinal fissure over the corpus callosum or great cerebral commissure. The abscess contained two fluid ounces of pus. It is something remarkable if not unprecedented for a person to thus live thirteen months with a leaden bullet embedded in his brain through its lying in [illegible] for [illegible] through whose brain a [illegible] has passed

The Popular Tonic of the Age

The day has gone by when a medicine without merit could command and retain the confidence of the world. Advertising induces the public to try many things but in this shrewd and thoughtful age, words will not suffice without proofs and it is by the exercise of their private judgment men determine the relative value of the various articles recommended to their notice through the business columns of newspapers. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has now been subjected to this searching ordeal for more than eighteen years and the result is that it stands at the head of the class of remedies to which it belongs. It has distanced and lived down innumerable competitors and is to-day the standard Tonic of the Western world. The happy effects which have followed its use in cases of dyspepsia biliousness nervous affections intermittent fevers and general debility and as a constitutional invigorant have entitled it to universal confidence. Nothing can ever shake its reputation for it is based on the individual experiences of tens of thousands of witnesses embracing prominent and well known citizens of every profession occupation and class. There is not a city town or settlement in the United States where it is not a medicinal staple. No druggist or general dealer would consider his stock complete without it. The returns of the internal revenue department show that its sales exceed those of any other proprietary restorative manufactured on this side the Atlantic. The beneficial results derived during a long series of years from the use of Hostetter's Bitters, have convinced the whole community that the only true way to restore to health a broken down or debilitated system or to put the human body on its defence when exposed to unwholesome influences is to invigorate, regulate and purify it at one and the same time

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Portland, Thursday, June 30, 1870.

[illegible] at New York [illegible] at 112½, an advance of ⅛ from the close of the day before.

There is not now a scarcity of both coin and currency. We have not heretofore heard any complaint at the banks, money has been at the depositaries, in full supply, in fact beyond business requirements. Of late, however, there have been more than the usual drafts upon the banks, and we find them this week with [illegible]. For several weeks country [illegible] merchants had been receiving remittances from their interior creditors freely enough to be more satisfactory, but within the last week there has been a marked falling off in receipts and the money market is tighter than at any time since the beginning of summer. Rates of interest, however, are unchanged—1 per cent at the banks, and 1 [illegible] per cent outside.

In the merchandise market, though some of our houses have been kept busy with customers, the aggregate of sales is probably less than for the preceding week. Still there is little or no ground for complaint as all have done a living to fair trade.

AGRICULTURAL GOODS.—The stocks of farm machinery are very much broken, and it appears that there are not enough of certain articles to supply the demand. The sales of harvesting machines will aggregate for the season, largely in excess of any former year. If we take account of our increased population, even then the total sales are proportionately larger than ever before. The fact is our farmers are finding out the economy of using first class machinery rather than to plod along with the old merely muscular ways of doing their work. Large shipments of goods in this line have been made during this week, up both the rivers. We note too the shipment of quite a number of farm wagons, and a few fine buggies. All prices in agricultural lines are firm, notwithstanding the season is very near the close.

DRY GOODS.—We find no changes in quotations. Our dealers have been doing a very fair trade during the week, and returns of sales for the month will show very well as compared with the corresponding period of any former year. Summer and holiday styles constitute the bulk of goods sold. It is expected, however, that trade in this line will slack up materially after the 4th.

HARDWARE.—Dealers represent the week's trade as something less than for the preceding week, though there is certainly a fair amount doing. Prices firm, and without change.

GROCERIES.—Quotations as heretofore. We find jobbers with about as much business on hand as they can well do.

PRODUCE.—Under the latest news from Liverpool, this market is very quiet. The price of wheat at Liverpool has gone back materially from the advance telegraphed a few days since, and with this, the news of rain in various grain districts of Europe which must have an excellent effect upon the crops, has had a depressing effect upon the Pacific coast markets. Large prices cannot, in the light of late advices, be now anticipated, though it is not probable that the markets can lapse into the sluggish condition which had ruled for so many months prior to the late advance.

Flour.—We note quotations by telegraph from San Francisco, as high as $6 12½@6 25, but private advices of sales higher than $6 are very infrequent. We cannot find any warrant for quoting our local extra brands higher than $5 75.

Wheat.—Owing to a temporary demand for shipment, good white is saleable at 90c per bushel and red at 80c. No change in other grains.

PROVISIONS.—Bacon is less firm than last week, though we still quote sides at 14@15c and hams at 15@16c. Eggs are 2 to 4c higher at wholesale. We find in the market, to-day for the first time, Oregon green beans and Oregon early rose potatoes, ripe and very fine, the latter selling at retail at 4@5c per lb. The market is well supplied with all staple provisions and Oregon small fruits and berries.

Markets by Telegraph.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Flour—Market quiet at the following rates for city brands, other kinds selling at 25@50c less: Superfine in sks of 196 lbs $5 37½@5 50, extra in sks $6 12@6 25.

Wheat—$1 70@1 85; a small lot of choice old would bring $1 90 from city millers.

Barley—Extremes are $1 17½@1 25.

Oats—Market firm at $1 65@2 00.

Potatoes—Mission $1 50@1 75; Half Moon Bay $1 65.

Onions—Sales of 200 sks red and silver skins in lots $1 12½@1 25 ℔ 100 lbs.

Rye—Last sale from first hands $1 95; quotable at $1 95@2 00 per 100 lbs.

Buckwheat—No demand, and price nominal at $4 00 ℔ 100 lbs.

The Bread Stuffs Trade.

[From the Shipping and Commercial List, (N. Y.) June 8.]

The Bread Stuffs trade has gradually worked into a healthier condition, the price of Wheat having recovered about twenty-five cents per bushel from the lowest point of depression, while nearly a proportionate advance has been realized on the shipping grades of Flour. The improved tone of the market is the natural result of the diminution of supplies in the English and Continental markets, and at the principal points of exportation on this side of the Atlantic, and is an ordinary incident of this period of the year, though facilitated, to a considerable extent, by the firmness of holders at the Baltic ports, where a clearer view of the situation reveals lighter supplies than had been anticipated. Another circumstance, which has had the effect of stimulating the upward movement in prices, is the fact that the season in the United Kingdom has been backward, vegetation having been checked by frosts, and, more recently, by drouth. Shipments from the Baltic some time since reached their maximum, and it is to the fact that the quantity afloat from that source is considerably below the corresponding period last year, in connection with the feeling of suspense touching the harvest prospects, that Continental buyers are turning their attention to American supplies, competing here with English buyers. Large orders have been received from leading Continental markets lately, and although most of them have been limited too low to admit of their execution, the shipments to Havre, Antwerp and Hamburg have been larger, during the last fortnight, than for a like period in many years, and there is now a fair prospect of a continued good export trade during the Summer months. That our ability to meet a large demand is equal to that of last year, when the movement, it may be remembered, was exceptionally large, there can be no doubt. Owing to the low price of Wheat, which have prevailed since last harvest, the farmers have been in no hurry to market their crops. But now, with higher prices and unfavorable crop prospects abroad, supplies are coming forward in large volume. On the 7th of May, the total supply of Wheat in store in the principal markets, and afloat for tide-water, was 6,746,845 bushels. At the close of the same month, the quantity had risen to 7,099,655 bushels, and in the event of a further rise in prices, the quantity in sight will most likely be considerably augmented, between now and the commencement of harvest operations, from which the interior transportation, the shipping and mercantile interests, and the Foreign Exchanges, must be favorably affected.

As to the course of prices during the summer it is of course impossible to foretell. That will depend much upon the advices in respect to the progress of the crops abroad and at home. The markets, on the other side of the Atlantic, are at present in a state of suspense, from which they cannot emerge while harvest prospects and foreign supplies rest upon weather contingencies, about which judgment can scarcely be exercised. The extent of land placed under wheat cultivation in England is stated by some recognized authorities to be less than last year, if not below the average of years. The same is asserted to be the case throughout the Continent, and unless the return is more than ordinarily prolific, the yield will be proportionately small.

Matters in the Interior.

THE PALOUSE COUNTRY.

[From the Walla Walla Union, June 25.]

On the 7th inst. a party of nine or ten gentlemen from this place, started to explore the country in the vicinity of the Spokane and Palouse rivers. After an absence of about two weeks, they returned, and all seem to be highly pleased with the country. One of the party tells us that they found a number of valleys of different sizes of the most excellent quality of land for farming purposes, with an abundance of good timber, with innumerable springs of cold water. These valleys are all large enough to support large settlements, and are no further from steamboat navigation on Snake river than Walla Walla Valley is from the Columbia. The Indians seemed peaceably disposed toward the whites and make no objection to the whites settling in their country. They told the party that they have very little snow, and that their stock do well without feed in the winter. Our informant saw some of their bands of horses and say they are very fat. The Indians, as well as some of the white men who were in that country last winter, say that the deepest fall of snow was about four inches. These gentlemen, who have seen the country, all concur in pronouncing it a first rate farming country and the best stock range they ever saw. It is situated in Stevens county, and is about from eighty to one hundred and twenty miles to the north of Walla Walla. Those who have seen it expect to soon return and locate claims, with a view to settling there. There is no doubt that in less than one years' time there will be a heavy settlement made in the country to which we refer.

REAL ESTATE.

There seems to be more than usual interest manifested in real estate in and around the city, and property is rapidly rising in value, and it seems that city property is to come up more nearly to its real value. It never has been, and is not yet, as high as in other places, which have not half the resources apparent for a permanent prosperity. Several pieces of property have recently changed hands, and it is gratifying to see it falling into the hands of those who contemplate making homes and permanent improvements. Mr. Garfielde, in his speech at Waitsburg, in speaking of the coming prosperity of this country, said he would advise his friends not to sell their lands, for he believed they would double in value every year for four years. We cannot help believing that his judgment is well founded. Many towns, however, have been injured in their development by property owners holding it at maximum figures.

San Francisco Markets.

We quote the following paragraphs from the Sacramento Union's San Francisco letters of June 23d:

A good degree of animation exists in commercial circles generally. The volume of business transpiring in all the various departments of trade is of considerable importance and partakes of a healthy tone. Wheat of the new crop is now being marketed to some extent. We hear of purchases inland, on the line of the Vallejo Railroad, of 1,800 tons, at $1 75 per cental. This crop movement will require large capital, and it is gratifying to know that our banks are prepared to grant the necessary facilities, there being no scarcity of coin as was the case a year ago. The most [illegible] of the week is the purchase of upward of 2,000 [illegible] of standard [illegible], at the [illegible] rate of 13 [illegible], embracing nearly every parcel of this size, both here and to arrive. The purchases were all made by a single importing house holding themselves a considerable stock, and who have now corralled nearly all in the market, and it is probable that an effort will soon be made by them to put up the price to 15c.

There is considerable activity in harvesting implements of various descriptions. Purchases of both steam and horse-power may be noted at full rates. The Oregon crops are large as their crops are said to be more than usually bountiful the present season. Bags and bagging material move off steadily, the demand for [illegible] Sacks being [illegible] at 12½@13½, for standards. Elsewhere we have alluded to large speculative purchases of Bags. Dry Goods Show continued [illegible] from Boston and Philadelphia by rail, [illegible] sale [illegible] through the auction rooms, and at the same time coming into direct competition with our domestic supply—the superior quality of much of the latter giving it a decided preference on the part of consumers.

Building materials generally rule low, with heavy supply of nearly every description. Cement and Plaster each command $3@3 50 per bbl. Stocks of Pine and Redwood Lumber accumulate. Eastern White Pine and Hardwood Plank are in free supply at low rates. Laths and shingles remain as before quoted, say $2 25@3 50 for the former and $2 75@3 50 per M for the latter.

Two or more argoes of Puget Sound Lumber sold in this city at $12 50@13 ℔ M. The market is abundantly supplied with candles. The Eastern stock of Macy's, Emery's, Rogers' and Gross' is inconsiderable, and for those brands 16@18c are ruling prices, Grant's command 17½@19; San Francisco 17@17½c, do, Judson's 18@18½c; Harkness' Patent Wax, 20@21c, Paraffine Wax, 27@28c; Sperm, 30c. Coal is in full supply. Cargo sales of Australian, $8 75@9; Bellingham Bay and Coos Bay, $8 75@9. Anthracite $11@12; Cumberland, $16@18—the latter in casks. The California supply is diminished by reason of the abundance and low price of imports. We hear of no considerable purchases of Coffee, leading buyers holding back pending the possible reduction in duties now under consideration at Washington. Central American Green—new crop—sold ex steamer at 17½c; otherwise we quote Costa Rica at 19c, Manila and other greens, 14@15½c, O. G. Java, 23c. The local Cordage factory continues to supply the trade at 18½@20c; 400,000 lbs Eastern Hay Rope sold at 18½c. There is no special animation to remark in Dry Goods, Clothing, etc. Eastern supplies find vent through the auctions to a considerable extent, while the active competition among Jobbers and small Importers is so great, coupled with a general disposition to realize, that the trade find little profit in the business. The activity heretofore noticed among Wholesale Druggists appears to have been lost, but with a moderate inquiry for drugs and chemicals. In French Goods there is little business doing, and in the absence of any considerable purchases prices are nominal. The demand for Fish is only fair, and prices inclined to ease off. Salmon we quote at $5 @5 25 in hlf bbls, $10 25 in bbls, and for Hume and Cook's canned $3 25@2 25 for 2 and 1-lb tins respectively. Of Mackerel, we quote extra mess, in kits, $3 50, No 1, do $3 50; No 2, do $2 75, hlf bbls $11 50@14, for Nos 1 and 2 respectively. Dry Pollock sold at 3½c; Desiccated Cod 12½@15c, Eastern Dry, do, 11@12c, Smoked Haddock and Smoked Halibut each at 10@12c; Pacific Smoked Salmon 7@8c. Fruits, Sauces, etc., are in fair supply, but the demand is light.

The market price for Sugar is quiet, pending the action of Congress in regard to a reduction of duties. Hawaiian raws rule from 9a11¼ for good to choice grocery grades. Peruvian 7¾@9c for good refining to choice grocery grades. The D. C. Murray, from Honolulu, brought over 4,500 hf bbls Sugar. The 1,600 mats China, ex Great Republic, sold private. Following is the tariff of rates fixed by the co-operation of Refiners—terms, forty five days by note, or 2½ per cent, discount for cash; three days allowed for examination of bills: Double Refined A Crushed, in bbls, 14c; Extra Granulated do, 13¾c; Golden C do, 11¾c; do extra, 12c, hf bbls ¼c more, box ½c more, for all kinds, leaving the market steady for all descriptions. The demand for refined grades is large, fully up to the present running capacity of our several refineries, though far short of their full working capacity, none of them having any stocks on hand, the current deliveries consuming all as fast as it can be refined.

There is at present very little animation in the market for flour and grain. Receipts of the old crop light and arrivals of the new inconsiderable. Eastern and foreign marts seem to be as unfavorable as the wind, and unfavorable crop rumors as plentiful and as variable as our own. The latest Liverpool cable quotation for wheat, 10s 1d@10s 10d. Freights with us, £2 1[illegible] to [illegible] at this rate or say £3 to Cork, wheat cannot be laid down in the United Kingdom short of 55s per quarter, which exceeds current limits, and without considerable concessions little business in the export line will be transacted for a month to come. At present leading millers are idle, and speculators are afraid to buy wheat at current rates.

NOTE.—The greatest demand has been for common laborers; next, for farm hands. The average wages received by each of these classes is equal to $30 per month and board. Choppers and lumbermen are in fair demand at wages ranging from $35 to $40 per month and board.

In the month of April, the society published 5,000 copies of a pamphlet containing statistics and other information relating to the resources of the State, for gratuitous distribution. The pamphlet contains sixty-two pages of printed matter—the publication costing $450. The demand for these pamphlets, coming from the Eastern States, has been quite large. About three thousand copies have been distributed—quite a large number of them, through the hands of private parties who have procured them to mail to their friends in other States. The efforts of the "Board" in stimulating immigration has, thus far, been quite successful. Every steamer from San Francisco brings people whose emigration to Oregon is directly attributable to the means adopted by the "Board" for advertising the State abroad. The members all unite in the opinion that Oregon is about to receive a large influx of population.

The number of letters from Eastern States received at the office during the three months is as follows: In April, 114; in May, 46; in June, 128. Total, 288—all applying for information about the resources of Oregon and the means of getting here. These letters have all been properly attended to, and the information required, furnished in all cases.

HOAGLAND'S

NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!

W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,

Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style for putting any buggy or other vehicle in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL,

San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, [illegible], male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into their system? Look at their pallid ensouls ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this terrible situation thousands suffer until death relieves the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest the cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noises like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are blacksmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupation in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. GIBBON does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 852.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 852 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
